moved down stairs to-day, where we will take possession of a handsomely fitted up room, aljoining Bruen's jewsley store. It is only few feet from the entrance to the old counting reom, and will be far more accessible to the public, saving the trouble of going up stairs. The numerous patrons of the Tarsons will be pleased with the change. Drop in and see our roposed increase of Braymen's Charges. The proposition of Mayor WENTWORTH, to double the legal fees of draymen, comes before the Council to-night, in the shape of an ordi-

We are decidedly opposed to the passage of this measure, in common with nino-tenths of the people of Chicago. The Mayor has very greatly mistaken public opinion in this case, and if he succeeds in driving the ordinance through the Council, it will be one of the most unpopular acts that could have been done. It is proposed by the ordinance to compel the cople to pay draymen half a dollar for draw ing any article whatever, any distance less than a mile, and twenty-five cents for each than a mile, and twenty-five cents for each additional half mile.

These are unreasonable prices, being more than the service is worth; more than the people are willing to pay, and every time a clizen is obliged to hand over half a dollar, for conveying a barrel, or how the length of a square, he will remember those who brought forward the ordinance, and those who rotted for it. The price fixed, in the proposed ordinance, is higher ordinance, and those who voted for it. The price fixed, in the proposed ordinance, is higher than is allowed in New York, Boston, Clucinnati, St. Louis, or any other city in the Union, with the exception of San Francisco. Such charges would not be tolerated in other cities, for a day. What is there about draying, that it should be paid double as high as other outdoor labor? It is a very simple business, and requires only a horse, a two-wheeled vehicle, and a stout laboring man, whose individual services in the labor market, would not command more than ten shillings per day.

our citizens to pay helf a dollar for any article or articles, no matter how short the distance, of light the load. The whole drayage of the city will at average half a mile per trip, and that ne within a mile limit will not exceed onedone within a mile, on the average. The Michigan Central and Illinois Preight Depots at the foot of South Water street; the doeks along South Water, and the Northern Transportation dock on Market street, furnish a vast amount of drayage; but the places of delivery from them, are within a few blocks distance. It is outrageous to permit a drayman to charge half a dellar for auling a box from Spencer's Warehouse to the corner of State and Lake. Nor is it fair that a drayman should convey a full load from the Michigan Southern Freight depot to South Wa sinal general repairs a package the unstable of a single square. There should be a half fuller rate established, also a half lead rate. For in-stance, for conveying a barrel of flour any dis-tance under a mile, a quarter of a dollar is enough. Any queckly londed, and easily handlish package, making less than half a load, abould not be charged more than 25 cents for short distances. On full loads the following rates would be liberal, viz:

pass the proposed ordinance and scores of mer-chants will keep a dray and horse of their own. In other cases two, three or more will club together, to do the same thing. When not i their own use, their dray will be employed hau ing for the public, in competition with the cor on draymen. But the mass of citizens whose usiness is not large enough, to own a dray of their own, will be fleeced out of half a dollar every time they are obliged to employ one. The excuse given for the proposed increase is the enhanced cost of fiving. But if that is sufficient reason for doubling draymen's charges, the wages of all other laboring men ers should then receive $5 per day for working on the streets, or on buildings; mechanics should be paid from $5 to $8 per day; pullishers should charge $16 per year for their papers; boarding houses should charge from $10 to $28 per week for board and lodging; after which laudlords would step forward and demand $5,000 rent on a store now leased at $2,500 per year, and $800 for a dirty shell of a swelling now worth $400; office-holders would demand double or treble their present salaries; taxes would be increased in it is pro-salaries; taxes would be increased in it e pro-portion; and Ci leago would be known abroad as the habitation of sharks and extortioners, to be avoided as a pestilence.

The great public outside of her, would not pay the enformously enhanced prices which the owners of all classes of property, would then be compelled to ask. The trade of the city would be transferred to other and cheaper places. Prices are up now to high water mark; put them up still higher and customers will seek other markets in which to buy their wants. other markets in which to buy their wants.
But suppose that doubling the wages of five or six hundred frish draymen would not have the effect to increase the compensation of other classes of working men, then the enlarged proclasses of working men, then the enlarged profits of these draymen would become a positive and operous tax upon the rest of the comminity, adding to their dready heavy burdens without returning a cent of recompense, and would be equivalent to pensioning these 600 men upon the city, for the purpose of securing their votes to the authors of the ordinance, at some future election—parkaps. If this is the othect, we can assure the gentlemen that they are on the wrong road to popularity, and that, while they are in pursuit or the votes of a few hundred celts, they will have indured the sharp displacement of several thousand good citizens

TRIAL OF A FIRE ENGINE.—The Detroit Free Press has the following accessat of the engine spoken of in tear last: "The new fire engine, built by Jeffers & Co., of Pastincket, R. I., for Fire Comby Jeffers & Co., of Patricket, R. L., for Fire Com-pany No. 15, of Chicago, was tested on Friday after-acon in the presence of the Mayor and Comiton Council of the city, at the request of the builders. Its performance was in every way a satisfactory one and it was presounced a line machine and one of great power. It threw two streams, one of seven-eighths and the other of three-fourths of an inch diameter, to the height of about 105 feet. Two arreams of three-fourths of ms lineh diameter were forced through the fire for those of the council of the

A single one-such stream was thrown 181 feet, and a si gle seven-eights of an inch stream over 200 feet. This was done under suction. The machine habored under a disadvantage of being on its first trial, as well as being manned by men who are wholly unaccustomed to its peculiarities, which makes a material difference in its performance. The dimensions of this free engine are as follows: diameter of piston ten inches; length of stroke ten inches; diameter of suction, four inches; spread of brakes eight feet; length of pinks, spread of brakes eight feet; length of pinks, spread of brakes eight feet; length of pinks, supread of brakes eight feet; and anti-American; it begs Protestants to think twice before they aid in any way the founding of Jesuit Institutions in this cir. We do this not comprasation for extra services. It was seed that the Marshal would collect the li-impelled by a salutary fear of this National-pillory to pay their debts and manifain their credit unimpaired, while handreds who have staved one set of creditors nearly to the bone will be disbled by it from walking presuptly into the affections of another set. The publi-cation does good every way, and must be ob-tioned. The bonest bankrupt need dot be sebamed of his whichtune; the rogue abould be made ashamed of his knavery. Publicity is the true touchstone.

We see intimations that some bankruptshave been canabled to coax or lany the omission of their name from the weekly list. This, if so, is a grievous wrong, so be repented of und amended. We call on Mr. H. C. Bowen, who is understood to be the responsible furnisher of the list, to deay the charge or explain the cir-abolishing the buckster system, and correctly as an authorise the market house in that city as an sensible article on this subject, of which we copy the substance:

We saw a long list of names of our citizens this morning attached to a petition to the City Council, praying for the removal of the old market house. The pelitioners represent this decayed institution as a nursance, and a superstoors hore; sail we say amen! We notices some of our most enterprising butchers signing it very cheerfully. They say they can furnist good fresh beef, nice and cool from an ice box at all hours in the day, it allows to so as insidead of compelling their customers to grop around before dailight, in warm weather, is furnif a beetfeath, foat of soap-houe. We have long considered the market house as a cole of old forgytim, enhalmed in grouse and dirt. At the meat shop there is always time and rooms woman can good at any hour, and as readilibuty a piece of meat, as she could have a readilibute of the market houses are an expense to the city. We see by the Ciheinnati Commercial that a sim that view of the market house system is taken it that city.

The Logansport Journal thinks the surplus wheat in that county will not reach half the usual quantity—that the prospect for cors, which has but a short season for growth this year, is gloomy—that the hog crop, which depends on this, will also be seriously diminished.
